DEVELOPING STATES, SHAPING CITIZENSHIP

Service Delivery and Political Participation in Zambia

Erin Accampo Hern

Jun 2019 240pp, 14 images & 18 tables

9780472054145 Paperback £19.95 / €25.00

9780472074143 Hardback £57.95 / €68.00

African Perspectives

At the nexus of political science, development studies, and public policy, Developing States, Shaping Citizenship analyses an overlooked driver of political behaviour: citizens' past experience with the government through service provision.

Using evidence from Zambia, this book demonstrates that the quality of citizens' interactions with the government through service provision sends them important signals about what they can hope to gain from political action.

NORM DIFFUSION AND HIV/AIDS GOVERNANCE IN PUTIN'S RUSSIA AND MBEKI'S SOUTH AFRICA

Vlad Kravtsov

Jan 2019 280pp

9780820355481 Paperback £23.95 / €28.00

Studies in Security and International Affairs

In this study, Vlad Kravtsov argues that recent debates about the nature of authority in Putin's Russia and Mbeki's South Africa have resulted in a set of unique ideas on the cardinal goals of the state. This is the first book to explore how these consensual ideas have shaped health governance and impinged on norm diffusion processes.

★ BESTSELLER*ADVANCING THE UGANDAN ECONOMY*A Personal Account

Ezra Sabiti Suruma

2014 213pp

9780815725893 Paperback £32.50 / €38.00

Offers a first-hand look at the remarkable policy changes that took place between 1986 and 2012 in Uganda, and their effect in contrast with the turbulent events after independence. Ezra Suruma held several key positions in the Ugandan government during the nation's transition period, including minister of finance. His insightful recounting of those times demonstrates that African countries can achieve economic stability and sustain rapid growth.

Brookings Institution Press*AFRICA THROUGH AN ECONOMIC LENS

Amadou Sy

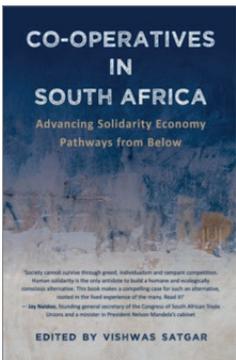

2018 224pp

9780815734734 Paperback

£33.50 / €39.00

A more peaceful and prosperous Africa is in everyone's interest. As one banker recently said, it is no longer a matter of 'Why Africa?' but 'How Africa?' Using economic policy analysis, this book examines the vision for achieving this idea of 'How Africa?' through the cooperative actions of the African Union, Africa's private sector, civil society, women, and youth.

9781869144173 Paperback £11.50 / €13.00

Assists legal studies students as well as ordinary South Africans with a limited understanding of law, by providing them with basic explanations of legal terms in both isiZulu and English, in order to elevate African languages in legal education and the practice of law.

University of KwaZulu-Natal Press*GOVERNANCE AND THE POSTCOLONY*Views from Africa

Edited by David Everett

Aug 2019 320pp

9781776143443 Paperback £34.50 / €40.00

Civil society, NGOs, governments, and multilateral institutions all repeatedly call for improved or 'good' governance – yet they seem to speak past one another. Offering a set of multidisciplinary analyses of governance in different sectors, in different locales, and from different theoretical approaches, this volume makes a useful addition to the growing debates on how to govern.

ACTS OF TRANSGRESSION*Contemporary Live Art in South Africa

Edited by Jay Pather & Catherine Boule

May 2019 336pp

9781776142798 Paperback £48.95 / €57.00

'This collection of essays coheres around conceptual themes that link the instability, volatility, precarity, and excess of live art itself to the instability, volatility, precarity, and excess of the contemporary moment in South Africa.'

- Catherine M. Cole, Professor of Drama, University of Washington

Performance art is transgressive and interdisciplinary. Acts of Transgression, an illustrated collection of 15 essays by respected researchers, critically probes where live art and socio-political turbulence intersect in post-apartheid South African society. Focusing on work by 25 contemporary artists, it adds significantly to the field.

Medical Anthropology

'An inspiring account of the real lives of determined women facing the hardships of birthing injuries: pregnancy losses and social suffering, persistent wetness and months-long waiting for treatment in the context of 'regional poverty' and mismanaged care. Transformed my understanding! Truly brilliant!' - Ellen Gruenbaum, author of The Female Circumcision Controversy

Obstetric fistula is a birth injury caused by prolonged obstructed labour, that results in urinary and fecal incontinence. In Western humanitarian and media narratives, fistula is presented as deeply stigmatising. Alison Heller illustrates these popular narratives only serve the interests of humanitarian organisations, the media, and local clinics.

9781978804746 Paperback £28.95 / €34.00

9781978804753 Hardback £82.95 / €97.00

Medical Anthropology

'Drawing on the authors' in-depth experience in the small, landlocked southern African country of Lesotho comes this gem of a book—at once funny and sad, inspiring and sobering—that conveys the social consequences of HIV through a focus on orphans and their care.' - Daniel Jordan Smith, author of AIDS Doesn't Show Its Face

AIDS has devastated communities across southern Africa. In Lesotho, the wide-ranging implications of the disease have been felt in every family, disrupting key aspects of social life. Ellen Block and Will McGrath argue that AIDS is fundamentally a kinship disease, and examine the ways it seeps into kin relations and networks of care.

SILENCED RESISTANCE*Women, Dictatorships, and Genderwashing in Western Sahara and Equatorial Guinea

Joanna Allan

Apr 2019 336pp, 2 maps, 5 b&amp;w photos

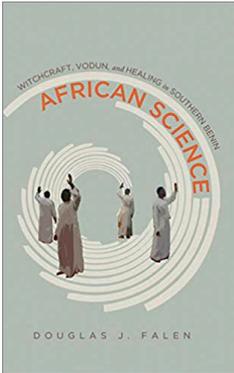

9780299318406 Hardback £72.50 / €85.00

Women in Africa and the Diaspora

'A ground-breaking study of the gendered dynamics of resistance to colonial and post-colonial authoritarian regimes in North and West Africa. Drawing on extensive archival and field-based research in Western Sahara and Equatorial Guinea, Allan forcefully analyses the complex relationship between women, feminist resistance to patriarchy, and political resistance to authoritarianism.' - Alice Wilson, University of Sussex

In this innovative work, Joanna Allan demonstrates why we should foreground gender as key for understanding both authoritarian power projection and resistance. She brings an ethnographic component to examine how concerns for equality and women's rights can be co-opted for authoritarian projects.

2018 240pp, 16 b&w illustrations
9780299318901 Hardback
£77.95 / €91.00

In this sensitive investigation into Benin's occult world, Douglas Falen wrestles with the challenges of encountering a reality in which magic, science, and the Vodun religion converge into a single universal force. He takes seriously his Beninese interlocutors' insistence that the indigenous phenomenon of àze ('witchcraft') is an African science.

Genocide, Political Violence, Human Rights

In the aftermath of the genocide, the Rwandan government has used the education system as a way to sustain peace and shape a new generation of Rwandans. This book argues that although the government utilises global discourses in national policy documents, the way in which teachers and students engage with these global models distorts its intention.
