

The University of Michigan Press and Rutgers University Press have been shortlisted for The Academic and Professional Publisher Award in The London Book Fair International Excellence Awards 2019.

19th February 2019

INTERNATIONAL EXCELLENCE
Awards 2019

IN PARTNERSHIP WITH THE PUBLISHERS ASSOCIATION

RUTGERS
UNIVERSITY PRESS

We are pleased to share the news that the University of Michigan Press and Rutgers University Press, both Eurospan clients, have been shortlisted for The Academic and Professional Publisher Award in The London Book Fair International Excellence Awards 2019.

The University of Michigan Press publishes in the areas of literature, poetry, music, performance studies, nature, economics, business, politics, history, classics, ESL (English as a Second language), among others.

Rutgers University Press publishes in the areas of history, American Studies, anthropology, environment, nature, film studies, medicine, Jewish studies, Latin American studies, literary studies, politics, science, sociology, women studies, among others.

The LBF International Excellence Awards ceremony takes place at The London Book Fair on Tuesday 12th March 2019 in The Conference Centre, Olympia, London.

We are proud to partner both these prestigious presses in their international territories and wish them both the best of luck.

For further information regarding the University of Michigan Press or Rutgers University Press, please contact:

Rebekah Ampadu (UK), rebekah.ampadu@eurospan.co.uk